Lesson-2 'Simran and the elephant'

Summary

This is the story of an elephant and a girl named Simran. Harish and Ronit are her friends in school. Harish tells Simran and Ronit that an elephant has eloped from the circus. Both Harish and Ronit say that the elephant is bad and mischievous, and should be caught by men carrying iron bars. But Simran says that elephants are gentle and kind. Harish and Ronit challenge her to get the elephant out of the park. In lunch break, Simran goes to a bakery and buys big buns to feed the elephant. Simran offered the buns to the elephant and the elephant starts eating the buns. Everyone is surprised to see that keeper offered a ride to Simran on the back of elephant to the school. Ronit and Harish saw that and realised that the elephant is friendly creature.
