(Summary)

Harry's parents passed away when he was one year old, so he lived with his uncle, aunt and their son and they loathed him. Harry's birthday was never celebrated but on his eleventh birthday he was to discover the exceptional reality of his real identity. Uncle Dursley turned pale when he read the first letter as he did not want Harry to be a wizard. In a final desperate move, the Dursleys relocated themselves to a shack on a rocky island on the edge of the sea. At midnight on Harry's 11th birthday, Rubeus Hagrid arrived in the shack to know why Harry had not received his letter. He explained to Harry that he was a wizard and how his parent died.
